

MLA Practice (8th edition)
Web Page

Name: _____

Find the author. Write the name of that author below. Put the last name first then first name separated by a comma. Include the middle name or middle initial after the first name if given. Put a period after the name. If no author is given, do not put anything.

1.

Example: Twist, Benjamin.

Write the title of the web page below. Remember to put web page titles in quotation marks. Put a period after the title inside the quotation marks. Make sure to capitalize the first letter of the first word in the title and then all words in the title unless these other words are simple conjunctions (i.e. and, or) or simple prepositions (i.e. in, on, at). Web pages are a part of a larger web site.

2.

Example: "Importance of Strong Writing Skills."

Write the title of the web site below. Remember to underline web site titles. Put a comma after the title but do not underline the comma. You may have to click a return to home page or main page link to find the name of the web site. When typing, use italics instead of underlining.

3.

Example: eHow,

Write the name of the publishing company here. You may find the publishing company listed at the bottom of the page. Put a comma after it. If the publishing company is the same as the name of the web site or if there is no publishing company, do not put anything.

4.

Example: Demand Media,

Write the date the web page was last updated. Give as much of the date as the web page offers. Put it in this order: Day Month Year (for example: 14 Sept. 2001). There is no comma after the day. Abbreviate the month with a period after it unless it is May or June. These months have no period after them nor do they need to be abbreviated. Put a comma after the year. This may be listed as a copyright date on the bottom of the screen. If more than one date is offered, use the most recent. If no date can be found, leave it blank.

5.

Example: 2014,

Write the URL. You do not need the http:// Put a period after it.

6.

Example: www.ehow.com/strong-writing-skills.html.

Write the date that you viewed the web page. Give the entire date. Put it in the same order as the previous date: Day Month Year. There is no comma after the day. Abbreviate the month with a period after it unless it is May or June. These months have no period after them nor do they need to be abbreviated. Put a period after the year. Write Accessed before the date.

7.

Example: Accessed 19 Feb. 2014.

Now put all the information together in order. If you run out of room on the first line, you start a second line. Make sure you indent the second and all subsequent lines. Example:

Twist, Benjamin. "Importance of Strong Writing Skills." eHow. Demand Media, 2014.
www.ehow.com/strong-writing-skills.html. Accessed 19 Feb. 2014.
